CONSUMPTION: Its Cure and Its Preventive. BY J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whos death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleep-ing the dreamless slumber into which, had they calm-ly adopted ly adepted
DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT, and availed themselves of his wonderful efficacious medicines, they would not have failen.
Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.
In this statement there is nothing presumptious.
To the faith of the invalid is made no representations that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr.
Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing.
Its philosophy requires no argument. It is seli-

R. J. MARSHALL,

Proprietor. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition, the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then, comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Pedophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching alterative properties of calomel, but, unlike calomel, they "LEAVE NO STING BEHIND.".

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last, A SUPPLY OFGOOD BLOOD

A SUPPLY OFGOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylifica, tion is now progressing without sits previous tortures. Digestion becomes painles, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in. Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or the wemanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be sible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air, and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and we fast as the strength will bear room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is a great point to gain. a great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possi bility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of con "Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week;
then, like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. "As soon as that began to subside, my cough fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh "I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; m the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; m weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health." Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professiona visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck. Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 a. m. to 3 p.m. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, except-ing that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be ing that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses, the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pilis are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a prophylacteric against consumption in any of its forms.

THE APPOINTMENT OF AN EX-CONFEDERATE First Assistant Postmaster General Marshall denies that E. C. Roxbury, an ex-confederate soldier, was recently appointed to a clerkship in the Post Office Department through his (Mr. M.'s) personal efforts. Mr. Marshall says that he never saw Mr. Boxbury until he came to him as an applicant for a position, endersed by Senators Lewis and Pool, Judge Underwood Representative McKenzie, ex-Governor Holden and other prominent southern republicans. GREELEY'S COMMENTS ON A GRUMBLING LETTER FROM WASHINGTON .- One of the chronic grumblers of Washington sends a letter to the New York Tribune complaining about the expenditures of the new government here. Mr. Greeley says of it: "In so far as this correspondent charges fraud, he seems utterly to fail to make any proof of it. If he had rested his case on charges of extravagance, it seems possible that there might have been greater shadow of excuse for the earnestness of his language. But Washington has long depended on the national government for whatever it got in the way of internal improvements. We welcome the evidence that its people are hereafter to have the pleasure of paying their own bills." THE NEW LOAN.-The Secretary of the Treasury has addressed a letter to the National Banks, informing them that arrangements have been made for the disposal of the remainder of the bonds offered by the Secretary on the 28th of February last, being about one hundred and three millions of dollars. The arrangement is subject to the condition that the National Banks shall have the opportunity within sixty days from this date to subscribe for any sum or sums not exceeding fifty millions of dollars. The Secretary has addressed the following to agents heretofore appointed :- Negotiations having been perfected for the sale of the remainder of the $200,000,000 of five per cent bonds offered the public by the letter of the Sec retary of the Treaury on 28th February last, the authority of the agents heretofore designated is limited to the sale of equal amounts of 4, 4% and 5 per cent. bonds, or equal amounts of 4 and 5 per cent. bonds.

THE BALANCE AGAINST COMMISSIONER DGUGLASS,-The New York World of yesterday, contains a telegram from Washington, setting forth that in the list of balances due to the Treasury, appears the name of John W. Doug-lass, Collector of the nineteenth district of Pennsylvania, and the amount charged against him $2,777.15. The fact is, that the present Commissioner of Internal Revenue, when holding the office of Collector, was robbed by his deputy of $17,000. Mr. Douglass, by the recovery of $9,000 on the bond of his deputy, and the sale or mortgage of his own private property has paid the entire amount with the exception of $1,650. Though ready at any time to pay this small amount, he is awaiting action in a petition for relief from Congress, which in various cases, has granted relief where it has been shown that the loss did not occur through the negligence of the superior officer. The latest cases of relief were the Collector of the port of Baltimore, and his immediate produces or under similar circumstance. immediate predecessor, under similar circumstances.

THE LATEST STORIES ABOUT MRS. WHAR-TON.—The last item of news about Mrs. Wharton is an account of a sharp financiering operation which she practiced on a relative in Philadelphia, borrowing $6,000 on the pretence of delphia, borrowing $6,000 on the pretence of paying off a mortgage on her house, and promising security, which was never given. It appears that the statement with regard to the alleged poisoning of Mrs. Alcock, published in the American of Tuesday, was incorrect in many particulars. That lady took sick after eating a plate of clam soup sent her by Mrs. Wharton, but it was some weeks before she left for Europe. So much of the story as relates to the warning given to Mrs. Alcock by Mrs. Wharton's servant is said to be a pure fiction. Mrs. ton's servant is said to be a pure fiction. Mrs. Alcock, it is alleged, has written to her friends since her arrival in Europe, and makes no mention of having been poisoned.—Balt. American.

Mysterious Hanging of a Woman at Iowa City.—In Iowa city last Sunday morning the body of a Bohemian woman was found hanging to a iree at the east end of Market street. She was on the streets on Saturday evening apparently in good health, and enjoying herself visiting. The circumstances surrounding the case are wrapped in mystery. Various opinions are expressed. She was heard crying for help, and it is supposed she was either hung by some one, or, after getting a taste of the hanging business, wanted to get out of it; but no assistance coming, she was left to her fate. She could have easily saved herself, as she was only a few inches from a tree, and her feet were about five inches from the ground. The matter will be investigated.

THE KENTUCKY ELECTION—Returns begin to come in sufficiently to enable the politicians to form on estimate approximating the result of the election. Glasgow.

MATAMORAS, August 4 .- On the 2d instant. Manrico Portugal, formerly chief of police, shot Juan Curde, his successor, in front of the police station, killing him instantly. Portugal escaped to Brownsville. The public sentiment there is against his extradition, as the Mexican authorities always evade the law, which requires the surrender of such criminals. Portugal is therefore safe. The quarrel grew out of Portugal's removal. Rands of Mexican replaces removal. Bands of Mexican robbers continue their depredations on the Texas side of the line. Cortina, the Mexican general commanding the line of the Rio Grande, and formerly a resident of Texas, has been seventeen times indicted for murder, arson and robbery, in Brownsville. The courts give protection to the robbers. There are frequent contests between the rancheros and the predatory bands, and war seems imminent. The military authorities have made proper repre-sentations to their respective governments, and urge immediate action to prevent disastrous consequences.

Fires. PHILADELPHIA, August 10 .- A fire commenced this morning in the extensive sugar house of McKean, Newball and Borie, above Church alley and back of 3d street. The fire orignated in what is known as the black house, where bone black is used for clarifying purposes is purified, so as to be used again. Fortunately it was detached from the main building. consolidation of the thirteen national banks against the city collector, has decided that the shares of National Lanks cannot be assessed at a higher valuation than the par value thereof, and that the tax is in the nature of royalty upon the denominal value of each share respectively. If a share could be assessed at any other value that would involve a curtailment of the actual property of bank and a deduction the actual property of bank and a deduction therefrom of so much thereof as was invested in United States bonds. This, the Supreme Court, of the United States, has decided cannot be done, for the reason that the tax upon a share was intended to be upon the new use to which the capitalists put his bond, by embarking them in National Banks. It is considered, therefore, in this light that the tax could be levied only upon the nominal value of each share, whether the share was actually worth more or less than par. The court also held the State law of 1851 providing for the taxation of bank shares to be wholly void, because it is in contravention of the State constitution in that it contravention of the State constitution in that it provides for taxing shareholders in the district where the bank is locateds instead of the district where the shareholder is a resident. The taxing power is only to be exercised upon persons or preprity within the jurisdiction. The stock can-not be taxed on account of its locality. Any tax imposed upon it must necessarily be confined to person or owner. So far as the law of June 1.67, directs the assessment of shares owned by residents of the city who reside outside out the county, city, town, or district where the bank is located, it is in conflict with the constitutional provisions, and is therefo void; and being void and inoperative to th extent it is also so as to the owners of share residing in the same place where the train is located, because the rule uniformly would be violated in taking them and not othere, there being no validiaw in force in this State by which shares of stock and national banks belonging to residents of the State can be taxed. The share owned by non-residents cannot be taxed, be cause such a regulation would be in conflic

[Correspondence Baltimore Gazette.]

NEAR ANNAPOLIS JUNCTION, August 9, 1871.—Haslup's Grove is situated 1½ miles from Annapolis Junction, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, near the Little Paturent river, and presents to-day a lively appearance, as a large representation from Baltimore, Washington and Alexandria, as well as many families from the rural districts, are pitching their pavilious, in anticipation of a "delightful week in the woods." As previously announced, a camp-meeting, under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, commences at this place to-day. Over one hundred and twenty-five tents are already on the ground, and this number is receiving accessions every hour. The following ministers have arrived:-Rev. John S. Martin, P. E. of the Baltimore district; Rev. Dr. Huston, of Trinity Church, Baltimore Rev. W. G. Eggleston, of St. Paul's; Rev. W. K. Boyle, of Chatsworth Independent Church; Rev. J. A Train of Cors Breaks Through a Bridge-Three Persons Killed and Thirty Injured A fearful accident occurred on the Maine Central railroad just as the train was entering Bangor yesterday, by the giving away of the bridge across the Hampden road. The train constituted an engine, tender, mail, express, smoking, and passenger car, and one Pullman. The train was about half an hour behind time, and was running at good speed to make up. The engine and tender had got across the bridge, and a portion of the mail and express car, when the structure went down, taking the rear trucks of the mail car, but the strength of the shackles kept it on the track. The smok-ing car plunged down into the street, a distance of twenty feet, and was completely demolished. This was followed by the passenger car, which came down on its side, and was completely torn to pieces. The second passenger car shot across the street at right-angles with the first, and was also demolished. The third and last car plunged down the abyss, striking on the forward end, and crushing it in, while the rear end was suspended at an angle of forty-five degrees by the broken timbers and abutments. The Pullman car last in the train remained on the track, but the front end was somewhat damaged by coming in contact with the projecting timbers. None of the passengers in it were in-jured. Wm. Percival, of Waterville, was the brakeman on the third passenger car, and stood on the front platform when the car went down through the bridge and was instantly killed. There was a very small number of passengers. Otherwise the loss of life must have been fearful. As it was, 30 persons were more or less seriously injured, but only one as yet fatally bridge timber, as exposed to the accident, proved to be badly decayed. So far as learned up to midnight, the injured were doing well. THE RIGHT TO "STRIKE"-An Important Presecution .- Last evening a prosecution which, if brought to the criminal court, may result in the determination of the relative rights of capital and labor, was instituted before Mayor Brush. Mr. Edward Mansfield, of the firm of Mansfield & Fitzsimmons, brass finishers and dealers in anti-friction metals, at No. 13 Second avenue, lodged an information against Robert Jackson and Horace Lille, charging them with falsely and maliciously conspiring to induce the men employed in the firm's shop to suspend work or, in other words, to "strike," and thus occa-sion injury and inconvenience to the firm. Mr. Mansfield stated that the defendants had been working on his premises in the capacity of brass finishers, and because a demand for an advance of wages was not granted, not only announced that they would themselves immediately quit the employ of Mansfield & Fitzsimmons, likewise endeavored to lead other hands to fol-low their example. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the accused, and Officers Strain, Ruch and Rivers succeeded in finding them about seven p. m. They were taken to the sta-tion house and there lodged in cells, to remain until Monday morning, or find bail for their appearance at a hearing then. SCANDALOUS STORY ABOUT EX-SENATOR YATES .- In the Decatur (Ill.) Magnet of July 11th an article appeared, charging Ex-Senator Richard Yates with improper intimacy with a lady, which article was the occasion of his writing a letter to the publisher from his home in Jack-sonville, Ill., on the 2d inst., in which he says: "The Decatur Magnet seems to have been mailed here to my wife, and your papers reached my family, as of mailed here to my whe, and your papers would, my family, as of course, you knew they would, causing much sorrow and weeping. I shall not enter into the facts of the case, and it would be enter into the races of useless for me to admit or deny, people will beless for me to admit or deny, people will have their opinion in such cases anyhow. Treating the whole thing as one of the newspaper slurs with which I have become personally very familiar, and to which I have been indifferent, I at first paid no tention to it, but when I saw the poisoned arrow had reached my little home, I determed to go to the place where the imputer offense was committed, and where the grand jury, with which I was threatened, was in session." He then tells of his trip and of the legal investigation, which lasted some days, relegal investigation, which lasted some days, resulting in the "unanimous verdict of the jury, dismissing the case."

THE PESTILENCE FLY, of which mention has The Pestilence Fly, of which mention has already been made, has appeared in New York city. This insect is said to be the precursor of the cholera, or other pestilence. It is a little longer than the common house-fly, and has very transparent wings, of a slightly purple hue. The head is perfectly round of a dark brown color, with a white mark on the face. The body is divided like the wasp's. The round parties next the head, to which the wings are attached, an invisible green. The remainder of the body from the waist to the tail presents alternate ring of jet black and a pale yellow. It has six legs which are longer than the common fly's.
